

Laura Furiosi

Endo Champion

Laura Furiosi runs a business coaching business called Bossy Mummy where she works with her clients to achieve their dreams by drawing on her years of experience in creating an international sold children's label.

She also co-hosts the chart-topping "The Divorce Course Podcast" with her mother Lyn Galvin and runs an online divorce course to assist with empowering women with legal knowledge and 'know how' to navigate the legal path of divorce.

Laura spends time as the Queensland Coordinator for Endometriosis Australia in an effort to raise funds, spread awareness and educate women about a disease that impacts 1 in 9 women.

Laura is driven by a passion to empower and educate women in all aspects of their lives. She does this in the hope to create a better future for the next generation of women, including her three daughters.

